

7. JARETH

A shark named Jereth has made his escape, from ocean depths to a bookish landscape!

He's lurking now on the library's side — West Side Branch is where he'll hide.

So take a dive into stories wide, and see if you can spot where sharks abide!

What type of shark is Jereth?

8. MIDNIGHT

Midnight the shark slipped out with a grin, trading the sea for a library bin!

He's hiding out where the stories are hip, at Yankee Clipper, he took a trip.

Search the stacks, take a look right — you just might spot fins in the soft reading light!

Citywide Sharks Scavenger Hunt!

Shark Week's here — the chase is on!
Some sharks from the museum are gone!

They've swum to libraries all around,
in Grand Rapids, they must be found.

The Public Museum and Library, too,
are teaming up — they're counting on you!

Grab a brochure or download online,
then follow the clues and start the climb!

Search each branch, both near and far —
Can you find where the sharks now are?

Visit grpm.org/sharks or scan the QR Code
for hints and information about the Sharks exhibit,
on display now through August 31, 2025!

Directions: Follow the clues to find every Public Library
location and write down the species of each shark!

Bring your completed hunt
back to the GRPM for a special prize!

1. BRUCE

To find a shark, not in the sea,
but where the books and stories be,

He's not behind glass or swimming loose — he's waiting by shelves, his name is Bruce!

So head to the branch where readers unite, and discover this shark in broad daylight!

What type of shark is Bruce?

2. NEMO

Sharks have arrived—come take a peek, but one swam off to play hide-and-seek!

He's not in the ocean, he's not in the air, he's waiting for you at Madison Square.

His name is Nemo—he's clever and
sly, go find him near books before he swims by!

What type of shark is Nemo?

3. SHERE KHAN

Not all sharks live deep in the sea—
one's hiding out where the books
roam free!

His name is Shere Khan, fierce and grand, but he's left the waves for a spot on land.

At Ottawa Hills, take a good look,
you might just find him near your next book!

What type of shark is Shere Khan?

4. CLAW

A shark named Claw has left the tide, to find a new place where readers reside.

He's not in the deep, but don't withdraw — he's waiting for you at Seymour, with awe!

So follow the clues and open the door,
adventure and sharks—who could ask
for more?

What type of shark is Claw?

5. INDIGO

A shark named Indigo swam out
one day, to Van Belkum Branch —
he couldn't stay away!

He traded the sea for stories and fun,
now hides where pages outshine
the sun.

So search the shelves, take it slow —
that's where you'll find your shark,
Indigo!

What type of shark is Indigo?

6. CHUM

Chum the shark has left the reef,
in search of tales beyond belief.

At West Leonard Branch he's found a nook, hiding out beside a book!

So swim on in, don't miss the fun —
your shark adventure has begun!
